Page 3

Applicant's invention presents a network and workstation for conditional trading of items, such as securities and contracts. The key elements, which are specified in all of the independent claims #'s 1, 24, 41, and 44, which differentiate the invention over prior art, are:

- a security instrument or item input by the system administrator in the form of an algorithm with constraints thereon,
- a variable number of trader terminals for entering an order for a security instrument that represents a willingness to transact the algorithm,
- a price set forth within an order is represented as an algorithm with constraints thereon,
- the price for the trade of one security (or item) is a dependent variable of the algorithm within the constraints,
- dynamically changing a price of another security is an independent variable of the algorithm within the constraints,
- the price as the dependent variable being continuously changeable responsive to changes in price of the independent variable, and
- the algorithm representing a buy or sell order.

Prior art discloses some of the aspects or properties of the invention, as well as the aspect of buyers defining contract terms(Shepherd [U.S. Patent No. 6,134,53], col. 9 lines 20-22), whereas the invention does not allow buyers to define contract terms; system administrators predefine and input the securities and contracts (see Paper #7, pg. 9, 3rd para.). Prior art does not

Applicant's and examiner's amendments make the invention unique and distinct over prior art. Prior art of record includes:

- Shepherd (U.S. Patent No. 6,134,536) discloses methods and apparatus which deal with the management of risk relating to specified, yet unknown, future events;
- Borgato (U.S. Patent No. 5,950,178) discloses representations of stock market activity may be represented on a graphics computer monitor/screen for monitoring activity related to stocks and the market;
- Williams et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,999,918) discloses a computer interface system that includes interactive interface controls as well as aural and kinetic interface controls to assist in educating a user, in profiling a user, and in controlling and monitoring the implementation of actions involving probabilistic distributions;
- Wiseman (U.S. Patent No. 5,168,446) discloses a system is provided for processing spot trades in selected commodities among a group of trading stations in a communication network through a series of structured stages;
- Ferstenberg et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,873,071) discloses, in a preferred embodiment, this invention includes software processes distributed on one or more computer systems that exchange
